

How Can Quantec Support You?

YOUR QUANTUM LEAP TOWARDS ALIGNMENT

Why do I use Quantec to support my clients?

What I love about Quantec is that it works in the background and assesses what is needed to create the sustainable results you wish to achieve.

Once we combine our deep inner work and Quantec support together, it helps fast track our results.

In our work together, some deep-seated behavioral patterns are changed so that you can embody your soul-aligned self, regain your balance and strength, show more self-confidence, and can embody your soul self as you embody and thrive in life and business.

Quantec is a powerful supplementary tool in our work together to support you in moving forward with more ease as it helps you to draw in aligned circumstances and opportunities, rewiring your subconscious beliefs so you can create the sustainable success you are here to experience.

Client Results

My client Karen R. is a business coach. She went through one of my coaching programs and needed the help of Quantec to support her during our time together.

She received 3 Quantec Support Healing Sheets alongside our 6 months 1 on 1 work together: One for business, one for her health, and one for her finances.

Hear Karen's full experience with the help of Quantec down below:

"My journey with Corin has been amazing, insightful and very worthwhile. When I began with her I was at a standstill with my chronic health issues after several years of trying to solve them. After just a couple of months my body was in a totally different mode and ready for healing. Her guidance and insight around my health steps have been pivotal in the improvements I'm enjoying and continue to build on. In terms of my business, the way I'm now thinking about my offerings and how I work with my clients has shifted dramatically and I'm loving this new direction. While I'm not sure that just one person can be a one-stop-shop for all our needs around personal and professional growth, Corin comes very close!"

What is Quantec?

QUANTEC® is a world leader in the field of instrumental biocommunication. It's a tool that accesses and works with the energetic level of our businesses and our whole being.

Quantec is a device that works on a Quantum Physics level and can positively affect states of consciousness by harmonizing the body and mind in any situation. It shows the specific physical and mental requirements that are needed uniquely for you.

This tool analyzes and records the energy field of a living organism using advanced quantum physics. By doing this, it can identify areas with weak points and bring them back to balance through harmonizing impulses. Any deviations from the normal state are gently corrected.

Quantec always works for the highest good of all, acts in the background, and responds to our subconscious, reaching it in targeted ways.

Every disease, limiting belief, or imbalance in our work and life has an underlying energetic imbalance and could be described as psychosomatic in nature.

Disease manifests in our physical body (soma) when our psyche (mental state) gets out of balance. This is equally true for stressors and blocks we might experience when building and scaling our soul-business.

Quantec discovers what is missing in order to regain the desired balanced state of harmony in body and mind, then helps to supply it.

For this reason, Quantec is a wonderful complement to your personal and professional development program.

My client Isabell is a Lawyer and was studying alongside her work at the time. Her life was very stressful and jam packed. Together, we decided to have a 1-1 in-person session and 12 months of Quantec support. This is not what I ideally recommend. Yet, at the time, this is what she had the capacity for.

Hear Isabell's experience with Quantec down below:

"Quantec support through Corin was incredible. When I first came to her I had suffered from a year of terrible sleep. You know how awful this can make you feel. After the first session I slept! I have more stability and inner peace. Quantec support makes life a lot more relaxed and enjoyable."

How does Quantec work?

1. Reflect and write down your intention for Quantec Support.

Before Quantec can support you, we need to identify which area you would love to work on. Depending on what we address and what works best for you, you will either get to go through a deep reflection with a series of questions and a guided process (which I will provide to you).

This serves to ensure that you are clear about your desired outcome before I fine-tune it for you intuitively.

Or, after a brief conversation with you, I tune into you directly to see what you need so I can create a statement for you.

The more precise and to the point we are, the faster we see results.

2. Quantec determines your unique energy pattern.

The Quantec device uses a digital photograph (such as a recent selfie), to scan the biological energy field of a body. It identifies any existing deficiencies and imbalances on an electro-magnetic level that prevent you from achieving your desired outcome with ease.

All three levels – physical, mental, and spiritual are assessed.

3. Quantec determines the required morphological field you need to help bring harmonious reformation to your body and mind.

Quantec then generates a support healing sheet, containing all the relevant frequencies needed for you and your intention to help correct the existing imbalances. These energy frequencies will be directed to you, for the required amount of time to initiate the rebalancing process.

Quantec scientifically explained

The best thing about Quantec support is that distance does not matter.

Quantum physics states that everything is energy and 'quantum' is the invisible relationship between matter and energy. So you don't need to be close to anything or perform any specific tasks for Quantec to work for you.

Every object in the world has its own unique vibration.

What's the science behind it?

The interfaces that enable a computer to communicate with individuals and biological systems, are based partly on diodes that generate white noise. They use a process that's similar to how two photons are connected to each other.

When we connect it back to Quantec, each light emission (contained in your digital photograph) has a twin photon (still present in your body). These two photons have been scientifically proven to maintain communication with each other over any distance.

Quantec and White Noise

Quantec uses a special component called a diode that creates white noise. This white noise acts as a bridge between Quantum Technology and all forms of consciousness.

The diode that generates white noise can be visualized as the television or radio quartz valves used earlier. The noise is called “white” because it appears on a black screen as flickering white dots, rather like what you see on a TV screen after the end of transmission time.

The noise of the Quantec diode itself can be compared to a radio that is not tuned into any station. It alternates between deep rumbling, high whistles, medium-frequency hissing, completely at random and with no recognizable pattern.

However, when this noise is connected with the consciousness, it changes. These changes can be processed and interpreted by a computer.

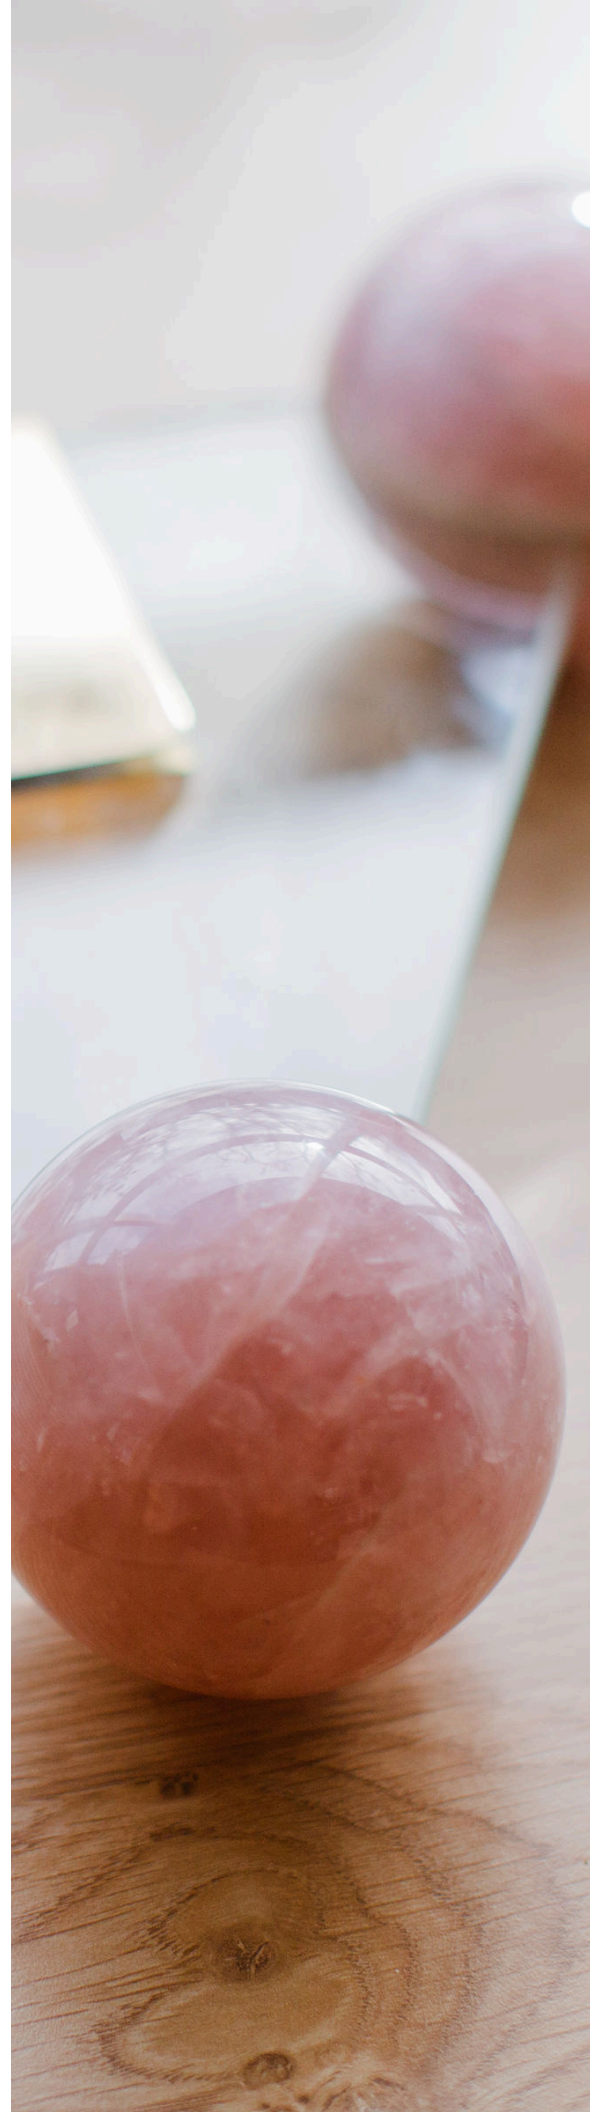

Quantec uses interaction with the consciousness by working with white noise to search its databases for relevant entries (e.g. affirmations, acupuncture, Bach blossoms, homeopathy, colors, business strategy etc.).

The diode as interface between consciousness and machine has been studied for over thirty years - with unambiguous results. Countless series of tests on people and animals have proved that diodes with white noise can be used as an interface between different types of consciousness and computers. The Frenchman René Peoc'h, in his experiments in the sleep laboratory, proved that this takes place without any waking consciousness. As part of the global awareness project, the collective consciousness of all people on our planet is still being studied.
